Building a New Path thru CAP College

By: Aubrey Maglia

Just like anybody else, the mention of education would always make me think of terror instructors, big schools, classmates, projects, assignments and exams.

But all of these changed when I was given the opportunity to enroll at CAP College. Many things changed but surely the aim and mission remains the same – to graduate.

In my case, I stayed home for more than a year to take care of my sick and aging grandparents. Poverty and other circumstances in the family deprived me of education. My one year as an out-of-school youth made me realize how important education is. It gave me a picture of a family that I will have if I don't finish a degree. I felt that education will be the tool in acquiring a good life in the future.

I regret the years when I was not able to attend school. And when I learned of the Distance Education Program of CAP College, I grabbed the opportunity.

Now, I am a part of this institution. I know that this is a ground for me to pursue a progressive career. Thanks to your Distance Learning Program, many like me who wouldn't have had the chance of education would be able to build a new path to follow.
